MEP INNOVATION CONFERENCE

Registration is now open for this three-day event. Known as the best technology conference for mechanical, electrical, plumbing, service and sheet metal contractors and their staff. The MEP Innovation Conference provides educational sessions at all levels of experience, and opportunities to learn about the latest industry innovations in software, tools, and technologies. As part of the joint partnership, conference attendance is open to all members of MCAA, NECA and SMACNA and their union counterparts for the second consecutive year.

“We’re excited to join forces with MCAA and SMACNA for this year’s conference and to give our members the opportunity to attend and network with a variety of other innovative, forward-thinking contractors,” said David Long, NECA CEO.

Sessions at this year’s conference will be led by contractors from all three trade associations and include roundtable discussions, exhibitor demonstrations, breakout sessions and presentations. Sessions will be geared towards operation, VDC, project management, IT, estimating and safety.

The MEP Innovation Conference will be held in-person in Tampa, Florida from January 24-26, 2022. For more information or to register, contact the Chapter or visit this link.
